FROM: Recovery Idaho, Inc. Secretary Jon Meyer
SUBJECT: Recovery Idaho, Inc. Update

Hello Recovery Idaho members and supporters!

A lot has happened since the board of Recovery Idaho, Inc. sent out its last update in late February.

Price Worrell has resigned as the president of Recovery Idaho's board of directors. We are very sad to see Price go and we thank him for all that he helped this board accomplish during its first year. Please join us in wishing Price the absolute best in all of his future endeavors. We are hopeful that Price will be able to participate as an active member of Recovery Idaho as the work of our organization grows and evolves. Thank you for everything Price!

Remaining board members voted April 14 to approve Melanie Curtis becoming the new president of the board of directors. Melanie had previously served as the vice president and president elect, and is happy to step in to lead the ongoing work of Recovery Idaho. A lot of work is ahead now that Recovery Idaho, Inc. is a 501 (c) (3) nonprofit and we're happy to have someone with Melanie's expertise and passion for helping those in recovery serving as our president.

Additionally, the Recovery Idaho board has also recruited two new members. Please join us in welcoming Blair Bradley, from Region 7, and Sharlisa Davis, from Region 2, to the Recovery Idaho board. We are happy to have them join us and welcome their fresh perspectives into the work of Recovery Idaho, Inc. Board members will meet with a couple more potential recruits at their April 28 meeting. Stay tuned for more information.
